Donna Troy

Donna Troy aka Wonder Girl is a charismatic DC hero. She first appeared in the comics 'The Brave and the Bold'. She was the founding member of Teen Titans. According to some, the character has been side lined because of the rise of Wonder Woman's character but Donna has made her unique identity in DC comics.

Catwoman

*Top 10 Female Sidekicks from DC Comics - Catwoman

Catwomen is one of the most interesting female characters in DC Comics but hasn't been used to her potential yet. She has a mysterious aura which is quite different from Batman. She has her morals and lines which she never crosses but walks on the grey path rather than being on the black or white one.

Batgirl

Batgirl

This counter part of Batman is no less than him. She has all the abilities to take down any opponent with mind games and strategies. There have been several versions of The Batgirl from Betty Kane to Barbara Gordon.

Harley Quinn

*Top 10 Female Sidekicks from DC Comics - Harley Quinn

First introduced as the sidekick of Joker, Harley is much more than just a random sidekick. Her character has been confusing to many as she has multiple variations to her storyline. Each storyline has its own perspective of Harley Quinn, which at times misguides people about her powers. But you can be clear about one thing that she's unpredictable.

Super-Girl

Super-Girl

AKA the kid cousin of Superman has all the qualities of her cousin brother. She can almost do all the super crazy stuff which her cousin brother can perform. But with that she also has a weakness against Kryptonite.

Vixen

*Top 10 Female Sidekicks from DC Comics - Vixen

Vixen has the powers to access any animal's soul. She can access any animal's soul and guides them. This DC superhero has her morals set in a very high order and believes in providing and serving justice to others.

Alice

Alice

The main opponent of Batwomen, Alice, is a super villain to say the least. She was manipulated into becoming a bad person. But after that there has been no looking back for her. She uses her trauma and pain as her force to move ahead. Herself being a big manipulator, can drag anyone for full filling her goals and agenda.

Mera

*Top 10 Female Sidekicks from DC Comics - Mera

Now there comes another hero who has the abilities to manipulate, but this time it's not manipulation of people or brains. Mera can manipulate water and even create mini tsunamis and waves in water. She is one of the strongest creatures underneath water and also has the abilities to survive inside water.

Powergirl

*Top 10 Female Sidekicks from DC Comics - Powergirl

Powergirl can be termed as the advanced or upgraded version of Supergirl. She has mastered and perfected her powers which makes her a better version of Supergirl. But the main reason for her supremacy is that she's from an alternate universe which makes her immune from the Kryptonite.
